Plaintiff now petitions the court, since it recognizes plaintiff's dire financial Situation whereby it allowed plaintiff to file in pauperis, plaintiff now petitions the court to grant the following motions:

1.) To order the New Hampshire Dept. of employment security to immediately release unemployment benefit payments to the plaintiff; as he needs to be able to purchase food for sustenance, pay his bills, and maintain his mortgage payments to avoid foreclosure of his home.

2.) Plaintiff would like to file punitive damages against the individual defendants belonging to Speare Memorial Hospital government affiliated former employer ; it's two administrators responsible for it's bogus termination proceedings that

Have resulted in financial hardship for the plaintiff; damages requested as follows:

A. Laurie Bolognani- immediate instigator of biased , capricious and arbitrary decision making process to label political speech in casual conversational remark As 'misconduct' and terminate plaintiff with extreme prejudice:

$25,000.00 dollars.

B. Peter Kritkos- secondary signatory on said termination notice: for reasons stated above:

$17,500.00

Said damages should be seen as fair & just by the court, in consideration of overwhelming protections American courts have given to political speech , from the US Supreme court decisions , to it's Circuit court decisions and even those case that may have arisen from the Federal District court system.

Plaintiff prays for relief from the Court; as he is beginning to run out of food, and has used what money he had to pay bills and return monies borrowed.

Sincerely, and respectfully, John R. Griffin Jr.
